This highly valuable work will comprise two large royal octavo volumes, containing over 1,400 pages, with 18 or 20 splendid steel engravings, and more than 600 engravings on wood, in the highest style of the art, illustrating almost every implement of husbandry now in use by the best general principles, address themselves only to party ends, and to matters of national policys. It is known to most of those to whom this paper will be sent, that the Senior Editor was Auditor of the Post-Office Department until the month of November last; with by far the larger portion of both postmasters and contractors, he has had direct intercourse, in person or by letter. He entered the department fourteen years since, and for many years previously, had been, first in the War Department, and subsequently in the Treasury He has therefore had the best opportunities for understanding the arrangements of business in all the departments, and being acquainted with those who carry it on. Since his official connection with the Government ceased, he flatters himself he has preserved the respect and regard of most of the BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory). Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand con fessedly far above all other journals of their class Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, preserved the respect and regard of most of the present incumbents of the departments, and is on serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, present incumbents of the departments, and is on becoming terms of intercourse and civility with them all. The Junior Editor has been assiduously engaged for several years, in studying, by personal inquiry and examination, the practical and daily routine and details of the Post-Office and concer pranches of the public business. It is with this stock of experience, and these advantages for reaching the various sources of administrative in struction, and valuable periodical and statistical information, that we challenge your confidence and solicit your support and patronage.

We have fixed upon the 15th of each month as information, that we challenge your and solicit your support and patronage.

PROSPECTUS

THE GLOBE-THE CONGRESIONAL NEWS

THE approach of Congress calls for the renewal of my proposals and preparations to spread us debates before the public. The success which has hitherto attended this undertaking it is hoped will continue, and enable me to perpetuate the full history of the proceedings and discussions of the body on which the destiny of the Republic de-

The adoption of Congress has given the Grove an official character as the reporter of all that is said and done in the body. This sanction has persons desiring to invest in Rail-Road securities, or to procure information of any matters connected with the construction and administration of Rail-Roads. They also propose, especially, to urge upon Congress a modification of the laws relating to contracts for carrying the mail, so as to authorize the Post Office Department to contract for the perpetual use of Rail-Roads, and, instead of paying, as now, quarterly on contracts for four years, to advance in five per cent. bonds of the United States, chargeable upon the revenues of the Post Office Department, an amount, the interest upon which at 6 per cent. would equal the payments now made.

The government now pays $300 per mile for said and done in the body. This sanction has been voted at every successive session for many years, and by members of all parties. The press, too, of all parties has borne testimony to the fidelity with which the duty thus confided has been performed. The annexed notices, taken at random from the general expression in favor of the work, are submitted in proof of its fullness, tairness, and usefulness. I am compelled to omit, for want of room, a page of notices which are in type

The great celerity with which the letter-writers The great celerity with which the letter-writers for the distant press circulate through the telegraph their hurried accounts and views of the debates of Congress, renders more important than ever the full and exact official reports of the Congressional. Globe. The hasty, and in many instances ex parte, relations by telegraph of what occurs in Congress supersede, for the most part, the exact reports taken down by reporters, and which formerly the scheme more or less abbre-The government now pays $300 per mile for carrying the mail on first class Rail-Roads. This is 6 per cent. on $5,000. The undersigned would urge that, instead of paying $300 a mile, per annum, the Department should deliver, on a contract n perpetuity, five $1,000 bonds, bearing an interest of five per centum. At this rate the charge upon the Department would be reduced from $300 to $250 a mile, per annum, and the $50 ser mile occurs in Congress supersede, for the most part, the exact reports taken down by reporters, and which formerly, in a shape more or less abbreviated, went the rounds of the press. Now the telegraph accounts, with all their imperfections and variety of colorings, take the run of the country, and no press but the official of Congress ever publishes the full debate with the proceedings of both Houses unmutilated. Indeed, no newspaper can give them, and have room for advertisements and the miscellaneous matter essential to their existence. While, therefore, the telegraph administers to the eager appetite of the public for Congress news, and meets the necessities of the political press, by furnishing a rapidly-written epitome suited to the taste of its patrons, perfect information of what passes in Congress is greatly dimunished. The circulation of the official reports has been, to some extent, cut off by the crude and diversified accounts which, flying along the electric wires, satisfies curiosity, and it is almost in vanithat truth puts on his boots to follow. Still there are a great many men of leisure and thought who like to see what is actually said and done in Congress, and to judge for themselves, rather than to receive impressions altogether from galvanic bat teries. There are others, too, who, for the sake of the future, willingly patronize a work which preserves a full record of the doings of the great to $250 a mile, per annum, and the $50 per mile saved would create a sinking fund which will, in a fewyears, pay offthe Bonds, and give the use of such roads forever thereafter, free of all charge; there-Road Companies than to the government. For instance, such a contract would give to the Baltimore and Ohio Rail-Road Company more than $2,000,000, which would enable that complete its road at an early day, and greatly increase its business and profits.

road at an early day, and greatly increase as ousi-ness and profits.

But to meet objections and impress the public mind with a proper sense of the benefits to result from this measure will require concert of action and continued active effort, through the press and therwise. The undersigned tender their services to your Company, expecting a reasonable com-pensation, partly contingent upon the success of the measure; and respectfully suggest the pro-priety of your sending one or more delegates to this city, on the first Wedensday in December next, to confer with delegates from other Rail-Road Companies, as to the details of the propos-ed arrangement and the best mode of bringing the subject before Congress. of the future, willingly patronize a work which preserves a full record of the doings of the great moving and controlling power of the Republic The undersigned has made preparations commensurate with the increased importance of the subject before Congress.

A PPEAL TO THE MEMBERS OF THE MARYLAND

STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—We desire that you should bear in mind, that on the 23d, 24th, and 25th days of October, your Society will hold its annual Exhibition and Fair at the city of Battimore: and we appeal to you, one and all, to bring for exhibition thereat portions of your stock the products of your orchards, and of your gardens!

Don't presume that any animal, or product, you may own is inferior to others that will be here, and be thus deterred from bringing them, as it is only by comparison that the relative merits of any thing can be determined. The safer presumption for you to arrive at, will be that what you have an good, if not better than that of others, and hat it behooves you to gallantly enter the list of ompetition: if defeated honorably, and the high haracter of the judges is a guarantee that you an be defeated in no other way, you will enjoy he luxury of knowing that others were more en-

ILLIAM TUCKER, MERCHANT TAILOR, (of the late firm of Lane & Tucker,) would call the attention of his friends and the public generally to his stock of Goods now opening, which has been selected by himself from the largest importing houses in New York, and by far the greatest variety and richest styles I ever offered in this city. Strangers are respectfully and earnestly solicited to give me a call and examine my stock before purchasing, as I am confident it will be to heir advantage.

And I would especially call the attention of officers, both of the army and the navy, to the fact that I am prepared to execute all kinds of uniforms, according to the late regulations, at the shortest notice, and at moderate prices, warranted, both in the cutting and making departments, equal to any establishment in this country.

W. T. tenders his sincere thanks to his numerous friends for theirlong and continued patronage, and hopes, by the same diligence and attention to business, to merit a continuance of the same.

All orders promptly executed.
